

Notice to the shareholders relating to the general meeting of 5 May 2021

Dear shareholders,

Orange Belgium offers the possibility to attend the shareholders' meeting of 5 May 2021. The exceptional circumstances caused by the COVID pandemic oblige us to put in place additional precautionary measures.

The shareholders are asked not to attend in case there are doubts about their health and in particular when they have symptoms that could be indicative of a COVID-19 contamination or any other contagious disease. The health of our shareholders and staff is of the utmost importance to us.

The shareholders are asked to present themselves just before the start of the meeting. The doors will be closed immediately after the opening of the meeting. The seating capacity will be organized pursuant to the applicable rules and guidelines and shareholders will have a designated seat.

The shareholders will be asked to leave the premises immediately after the meeting closing via the designated exit route. There will be no catering and no possibility for informal gatherings or exchanges on the meeting site.

The shareholders' identities will be checked at the entrance. They are thus kindly asked to bring along a means of identification. Only the shareholders that are duly registered will be admitted to the exclusion of any other persons that do not have the capacity of shareholder.

The shareholders must respect the sanitary protocol that is put in place by the company and respect the guidelines that will be given on-site to guarantee the security and order in the company's premises.

The company insists that due to the sanitary context, the voting by correspondence is strongly recommended. This recommendation and relevant information in connection herewith can be found in the notice for the shareholders' meeting that is available on the company's website. The form to vote by correspondence can equally be found on the company's website.
